Crafts Trailer to Visit District

An exhibition of the finest craft items Alberta has to offer will be available to town and area residents when the "Crafts of Alberta" trailer visits Drayton Valley on Saturday, July 6th.

The trailer will be open to the public, free of charge, from 1:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. The trailer will also be located in Entwistle on Saturday, July 13th for residents of that area.

The eighty-foot tractor trailer is specially designed to show the work of Alberta craftsmen from all points of the province.

About three hundred items are included in the displays that range from ceramics, weaving, basketry, photography, metal work and sculpture. A staff of friendly craftsmen will also be on hand to make your visit as enjoyable and informative as possible.

The great variety of craft items has been carefully screened by a panel of impartial judges to ensure the high quality of displays. Works by children, amateurs, student and professional craftsmen are represented.

During the tour in 1967 throngs of people crowded the trailer during its one-day stands in Alberta communities. Even the smallest towns and villages enjoyed the privilege of viewing the displays.

Interest has been sparked across Canada by the Alberta Craft Trailer and several provinces have expressed interest in the Alberta project.

Seek Nominations For Farm Awards

The Alberta Department of Agriculture will be recognizing outstanding farm families in its master farm family award again this year, S. S. Graham, director of of the department's Extension and Colleges Division, has announced. Deadline for nominations is July 15th.

The candidate families will be judged in three categories, Mr. Graham said. First, is to give recognition to outstanding achievements in farming practice. Second is to recognize the quality of family living. Third is to recognize good citizenship in the family's contributions to community development.

Candidate families are nominated by three of their neighbors who fill in a form available from the district agriculturalist or district home economist in their area. To be eligible, the families must have owned or operated a farm in Alberta for 20 consecutive years, be a Canadian citizen and must have achieved their position largely through their own efforts rather than through inheritance.

Initial judging is done by a district committee comprised of the district agriculturalist, district home economist and a successful farmer and farm woman selected by the district agriculturalist and the district home economist. Often a former winner of the master farm family award will be on the committee.

Once a farm family has been selected by this committee at the district level, then a regional committee judges the prospective candidate family. This committee is made up of a senior provincial department of agriculture official and a senior department home economist, a successful farmer and a successful farm woman. In addition, a senior official from the closest Canada agricultural research station is on the committee. There are five zones in the province and only one farm family may be approved for each zone.

The prize for the master farm family is an expense paid trip to some part of Canada for the farmer and his family or $1,000 in cash. To date, 67 farm families have been recognized by the program which started on 1949.

New John Deere Building Opened at Evansburg

The sun and weather in general co-operated fully on June 14th when the official opening of the new B and F building took place. This building houses the John Deere Sales and Service operated by Mr. Ivan Brown and Mr. Simon Fields.

On hand to chair the opening ceremony was Hugh Martin, John Deere territory manager. Mr. Martin introduced both Mr. Brown and Mr. Fields who both spoke a few words. Mr. Hugh Smith, John Deere's branch manager for Western Canada, and stationed at Edmonton, was then introduced.

Following Mr. Smith's introduction, Mayor Corkery of Evansburg spoke a few words and then Mr. Ralph Jespersen, MLA gave a speech and cut the ribbon, officially opening the business.

A record crowd of roughly 350 attended the afternoon's opening. At one time a spot count showed that 87 cars were parked in the yard. From the John Deere Branch House in Edmonton, 22 men were on hand to see that everything went well.

The business, which was formerly operated in Entwistle, employes four men at the present time, and is the only implement dealership in the village. A sumptious, all-afternoon buffet meal of cold meat and salads was served those attending and balloons and suckers were given all the kiddies attending.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Fields would like to thank everyone for past, present and future patronage. Special thanks go to Mrs. Martin of Edmonton and Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Mottram of Entwistle who helped to serve the crowd.

The following are the lucky winners of door prizes given on this opening day: Mrs. Len Williams, Magnolia-drinking glasses; Mrs. Pete Charlet, Horen bonbon dish; Mrs. W. Letters TO THE EDITOR

The Editor
The Western Review

Dear Sir:

I see by the Edmonton Journal that Drayton Valley's total building permits for this year so far, are over the $215,000 mark. Spending $175,000 on curbs, gutters, and paving for the citizens of the town and district to drive on, surely we can scrape up enough money for rest room facilities on Main Street.

I have been to the Town Council, the Recreational Board and the Chamber of Commerce. All agree it would be "nice to have one" but is anyone going to do anything about it?

One citizen of the town reports of a local rest room in the small town of Wildwood where even free coffee is available. Most surrounding towns have rest rooms where a tired mother or an older woman can rest herself.

How many of you have tried to change a baby diaper in the rest rooms in Drayton Valley? This is after you have found who has the key for the locked door.

Surely the Oil Capital of the world can show a little more hospitality to the people in the surrounding districts who come here to shop.

I am writing this on behalf of the Women's Institute and would like to hear the opinion of other women's groups and other interested parties.

Yours truly,
Winnie Hammerlindl

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Burning Necessary?

With a regular garbage pick-up each week, we wonder at times at the necessity for burning by some residents.

We wouldn't argue about burning waste paper or boxes but kitchen scraps and refuse are something else again. Ordinary smoke we might endure, but smoke laden with the stench of burning egg shells, orange peels, old rubber boots and the like is obnoxious to say the least and neighbors should not be expected to put up with it.

Well wrapped garbage should last between collections without becoming a nuisance and we don't see any particular reason why people should be out in the evening poking up a fire in an oil drum while clouds of aromatic smoke waft through the open windows of neighboring houses.

Many communities have outlawed burning and others attemp to regulate it in some way. Perhaps its time for Drayton Valley to examine the garbage burning situation.

Holiday Time

The holiday season is almost here again and by this time next week many people will be miles away enjoying their own particular brand of summer fun.

Before you leave, however, it would be a good idea to check your home as pointed out by Police Chief Bob Doig elsewhere in this issue, and remember to drive with care wherever you go.

On the subject of driving, summer is a time when even greater care is required on the part of motorists in the town. Hundreds of children will be completing classes this week and will be out on the streets in greater numbers during the next two months.

Make every week your own safe driving week.

Dandelion Menace

We don't know where this pernicious and yet colorful flower (weed?) originated. Do you?

Having tonic and aperient properties, does not give the flower and its stalks any more importance, except perhaps as a base for the famous home-made dandelion wine.

Apart from its own special characteristics the dandelion has now become a ravaging spreading menace that is destroying the finest of lawns and invading fields like a blanket.

This last weekend we saw acres of the "stuff" creeping into fine fields, and now going to seed, only to realize that by this time next year there will be ten times as many.

If somehow the dandelion could be crossed with something more useful, then we would really have no drought problem, for they seem to be prolific, no matter what the conditions. --The Bashaw Star

Mrs. Marilyn MacLean (L) is shown here with the girls who won special awards for their efforts during the baby-sitting course recently completed. From left to right, Mrs. MacLean, Donna Kerber, Anna Kaarsemaker, Cheryl Davidiuk and Joanna Hansen.

Course Members Receive Diplomas

A party was held for the students enrolled in the second babysitting course on Friday, June 21st. At this time diplomas and wallet certification cards were presented to the successful graduates.

The results on the course were very good. The class average was 77.47%. Awards were presented to the top students for highest general proficiency. The Presidents' Award, given and presented by Mrs. Jean Ward went to Ann Kaarsemaker. The two runners up, Donna Kerber and Cheryl Daviduk, were presented with the Instructor's Awards by Mrs. Marilyn MacLean, Mrs. Lil Ross and Mrs. Eunice Lyle.

Also receiving an award was Joanna Hansen who attended the first course but wrote with the second group and scored very high.

The leaders would like to thank most sincerely all speakers, participants, and those who in any way helped to make these two courses so successful. A total of 114 boys and girls have graduated from the courses this year. There should be no lack of good qualified babysitters in Drayton Valley for awhile. It has been the policy of this course to not suggest any babysitter rates.

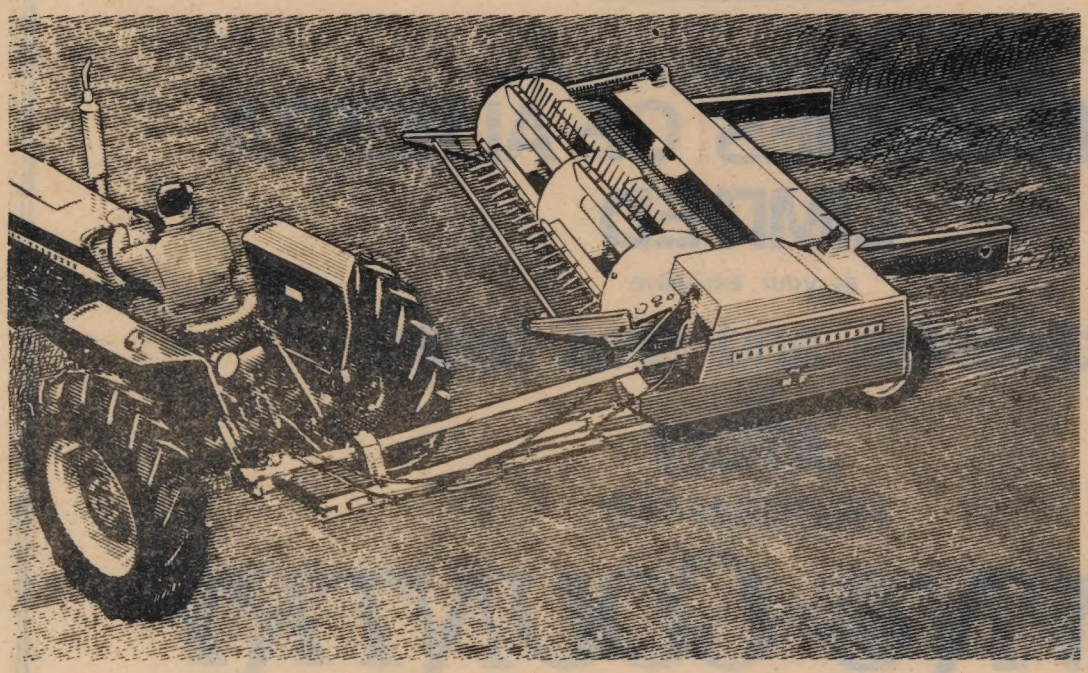
Massey-Ferguson challenges costly haying losses:

New MF 81 Haytender



Here is the best way yet to save time and preserve forage quality

With a big MF 81 Haytender you can cut, condition, and windrow or swath a crop more efficiently than ever. This new MF 81 mows a full 9-foot swath cleanly and smoothly; the heavy flywheel drive and 52,560 knife cuts-per-minute keep the job moving at maximum speed. Heavy-duty pickup reel lifts and combs the forage back over the knife to handle even the heaviest stands and tangled crops.

Pairing of steel and rubber rolls provides uniform full-length conditioning without the leaf loss caused by crimper rolls in competitive machines. Conditioned forage is spread flat, or laid down in loose or tight windrows according to weather conditions and degree of drying desired. The result is improved quality—whether the crop is fine-stemmed alfalfa or a thick-stalked sorghum.

Come in and let us explain the many advantages of handling forage crops with a Massey-Ferguson MF 81 Haytender. We can show how this new equipment will save hay, save quality, save time—and save money.

LODGEPOLE NEWS

MRS. CHARLOTTE KAY,
Correspondent.

Miss Shirley Tuks, a July bride-elect was honored last Thursday at a miscellaneous shower held in the community centre.

Some thirty people attended. She received many beautiful gifts.

On behalf of those present Mrs. J. Ramshaw (May) welcomed the guests. Shirley has grown up in Lodgepole, and for the past year has been secretary at the school.

When all the gifts were opened, the bows off the parcels were pinned on a "hat" tied with ribbons under the chin.

Shirley thanked the guests for coming and for her gifts. Her mother, sister Sandy, and her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Irene Lester assisted the bride-elect in opening her gifts. Refreshments were served and as it was her birthday, everyone sang Happy Birthday with Miss Carol Dykens at the piano.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Gunther Schmidt in the late bereavement of Mrs. Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Hummel of Botha, Alberta.

Some 2,500 ships carrying grain and grain products were inspected by CDA's Plant Products Division for infestations and contaminants in 1967.

SWIMMING PROGRAM:

The spring phase of the program at the Drayton Valley Swimming Pool will be completed this week and the summer program will get underway on Monday, July 1st at 9:00 a.m. At this time the regular Red Cross swimming lessons will begin and run on a continuing basis throughout July and August.

In the summer schedule Red Cross swimming instruction will run from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. There is also classes for adults each evening from 9:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Public swimming runs from noon to 1:00 p.m. and from 2:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. as well as from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

An hour and a half each day at 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday will be reserved for competitive swimming training. On Saturday and Sunday the pool opens for public swimming at 1:00 p.m., closes at 5:30 p.m. and is open again from seven until ten o'clock each evening.

Red Cross swimming instruction will be offered at all levels, Beginner, Junior, Intermediate, and Senior. In each case the course will run for two weeks and consist of nine lessons and a pre-test session prior to the Red Cross examination. The charge for these lessons is $5.00 per person plus an examination fee of 25¢ for those candidates aspiring to Red Cross honors at any level of training. Courses will also be offered in Survival Swimming throughout the season. Early in July a course will be offered for those aspiring to obtain Red Cross Instructors and Senior Leaders awards. Later in the season instruction will be offered for those interested in obtaining awards in the Royal Life Saving Society.

Attendance at the pool to date this season has been on a par with other years. Registration in swimming instruction classes has been heavy to date with most classes already filled well into the month of August. The weather while a bit cool at times has in general been conducive to swimming. The water temperature which was very slow to rise earlier in the season is now in the 78 to 80 range which is ideal and hopefully this temperature will be maintained throughout the season.

We can look forward to an exciting and resourceful season at the local pool. We have excellent pool personnel and the most complete and most outstanding swimming program ever presented here. Come out, make full use of this wonderful facility and enjoy pleasant and rewarding hours in aquatic activity.

BASEBALL NEWS:

Last weekend featured an Intermediate Baseball Tournament here in Drayton Valley. The tournament was a two-day affair with eight teams taking part. The Devon Safeway Kings carried off top honors trouncing Lamont in the final game Sunday evening.

Talking of tournament baseball, Moon Lake held their annual "Little Canadian" Baseball Tournament last Saturday with five teams taking part. Entwistle won over Drayton Valley 9-6 in the opener, Tomahawk edged Moon Lake 8-7 and the Tomahawk Tigers downed Entwistle 8-0 to qualify for the finals which featured two Tomahawk teams. The team coached by Walter Case and Ted Duckett edged the Tigers coached by Janice Shaw 10-7 in a real spirited contest. Thus the Tomahawk team captured the Town trophy which is up for grabs annually at this tournament. The weather was ideal and the tournament was very well attended. This is the third year that such a tournament has been run in that community and certainly this one was a great success. The people of Moon Lake are to be congratulated on the presentation of such a grand Minor Sports Day.

The Oilfield "Little Canadian" Baseball League schedule has been completed. From this league an All-Star team was picked to play in the "Little Canadian" Provincial Playdowns starting next month. Ken Machan was choosen as coach of this team and three local players, Lindsay Machan Tommy Sharkey and Bobby Hall will be on the team. Players from Breton, Warburg, Thorsby and Glen Park round out the All Star squad.

A Drayton Valley team coached by Lawrence Duperron and Chuck Schneider are playing in the North Area "Little Canadian" Baseball League. The league is made up of six teams, two from Tomahawk, and one each from Drayton Valley, Entwistle, Moon Lake and Wildwood. The league schedule calls for a home and home series for all teams. The schedule is about half way through at this point and will be completed some time in August. There is a good possibility that a post-season tournament will be held at the home town of one of the teams to wind things up for the season.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Mr. Henry Dunington underwent a minor operation in Drayton Valley Municipal Hospital last week but according to his son-in-law, Bill Chisholm, there is no cause for alarm. A few hours after the operation Mr. Dunington sat up and soundly trounced Bill at cribbage.

Brian Crerar and Wendell Smith left on Friday for a holiday in Drydon, Ontario where Brian has relatives.

Mrs. Thomas Oscar is in Glenrose Hospital where she will have an operation on Thursday. Our very best wishes go to Mrs. Oscar for an early and complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Terrault and family will leave Drayton Valley on July 6th to make their home in Edmonton. Don has resigned from the Treasury Branch and will work for the Attorney General's Department of the Provincial Government. The Terraults have made many friends here and will be missed

The Roy Burrows spent the weekend in Vancouver

The blow that many of us have feared for months has fallen and the Reg Ross family is moving. Our loss is Courtney B.C.'s gain.

We were delighted to have a visit with Irvine Mastre this week. Irvine lives in Creston now and had news of deserters from our area now living there. "Grandma Mastre" is still getting about with the aid of a cane. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Morin are cheerful as ever, Mr. Vickrey is feeling better, Mr. Pickovance and Mr. Brownbill find that gardening in Creston is much different than on their Saskatchewan River flats--more bugs, and Mr. Stordalsvoll has members of his family visiting him.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Urchyshyn spent the weekend with Mr. Urchyshyn's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Urchyshyn, at Chisholm.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Herndon is having a stay in hospital and hope to hear good news of her soon.

The Art Jorgesens have an exciting summer before them. Art will teach a summer school course in Math at a teacher's college in Kingston, Jamaica. Ivy and Jens plan an across Canada camping trip with friends. Ivy will be in Yellowknife for a week as a helper at the Boy Scout Rally. Jens--lucky boy--has many places to visit. He can go to Grandpa and Grandma Joresens at Wildwood or Grandpa and Grandma Herndons place at Drayton Valley or to see numerous aunts, uncles and cousins. Maybe he'll decide to do all these things.

Velda Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Thompson was injured in a car accident Monday and has been moved to an Edmonton Hospital.

Health Hints from THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Second Section

THE WESTERN REVIEW

Drayton Valley, Alberta

Vol. IV, No. 26 June 26, 1968

The common belief that headache is a symptom of brain tumor is only partially correct, according to The Canadian Medical Association. It is only one symptom, but not necessarily the first or the most important. Other symptoms often seen are: vomiting, mental change, weakness or seizures, and disturbance of vision.

When headache occurs, it can be anywhere in the head, and is "throbbing" or "bursting" in character. It is generally most severe when it occurs on wakening from a night's sleep, and tends to lessen as the day progresses. Typically, it is made worse by straining, coughing or stooping.

The other symptoms are equally important. The vomiting has no specific characteristics, although, like the headache, it tends to be worse in the mornings. Sometimes it occurs suddenly, without preceding nausea.

The mental symptoms may be slight. The initial signs of poor memory, a lessening of intellectual ability and social adaptation later become progressive apathy--a disregard of what's going on about him. This, in turn, may lead to stupor and even complete coma.

Other common symptoms are seizures or weakenss in the arm or leg. If witnessed accurately, this can give a clue to the location of the tumor.

The C.M.A. says, the speed with which these symptoms appear and get worse is often a guide to the seriousness of the tumor. Those producing rapid changes in symptoms tend to be malignant, whereas those producing slow changes tend to be benign.

The first Canadian unit of the St. John Ambulance Brigade was formed in London, Ontario, in 1909.

The best men were Harry, Bill and Eric Onyschuk, cousins of the groom, all of Highvale.

Ushers were Ken Yeo and Peter Wanicki of Edmonton.

The bride's mother wore a frock of deep pink complimented with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a navy blue sheath dress trimmed with white and wore matching accessories and pink roses en corsage.

The reception was held at Jackpine Hall. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake and bouquets of white chrysanthemums and rose buds.

Beverly Cameron, sister of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

On Sunday following the wedding several of the guests were present at the bride's parents home when the bride and groom opened the many lovely gifts.

Miss Bernice Carr from Edmonton has been giving lectures on Cathecism Renewal for the past six weeks.

She will return again in the fall to continue her talks. All parents should try to attend these very informative lectures.

ALDER FLATS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Maciborsky and Linda were weekend visitors of Mrs. Nora Maciborsky of Wetaskiwin.

Tony Durant is home on holidays until the 27th.

Peter Gnyp is also home visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grant.

Mr. Nevin Ross is a patient in the Drayton Valley hospital.

The Alder Flats Legion will be having a dance (closed) in the community hall Saturday, June 21st.

This story comes from Quebec where a woman in St. Hyacinthe was accosted by a neighbor who said: "You look very tired. Where have you been?"

The answer was that her 17 year old daughter had just got married and she had just returned from driving the newlyweds to Montreal on their honeymoon. "They were just too young to drive," she explained.

EVANSBURG

MRS. M. BRUNER,
Correspondent

Again, I am glad to report that everyone is back in school and the mumps have departed for awhile, at least. With final exams for those in Grade IX and XII, it is time that everyone attends school for every last bit of learning.

Mr. and Mrs. Froland and Mr. Colin McDiarmaid tells us they enjoyed a very nice trip through the Peace River country a short while ago. Even though the weather up there was slightly more moist than what we have here, they managed to see everything they had planned on.

The Volunteer Firemen held their sale as scheduled and realized a profit to be given to the Arena Building committee. Since all the donations were not auctioned off, it is planned to hold another sale soon. They wish to thank everyone who donated towards the sale and those who came to bid on the things offered.

The Wolf Cub Pack were brought to our place last week as part of their badge requirements under the heading, 'A Trip to the Farm'. To some of the boys, many of the things seen were quite a novelty and they really seemed to enjoy all the animals. Not to be outdone, our flock of geese ably assisted the boys with their grand howl at the close of their tour. The week before, the boys had been taken on a nature hike along the trails on Mr. Tuke's farm.

The Agricultural Society held their regular meeting last week. Matters relating to the fair were uppermost on the agenda. It was decided to purchase ribbons, tags and tickets as soon as possible. It was also decided to urge farmers that the time for submitting field crops application forms is nearing the deadline of June 30th. It is thought that the dry season may be the reason farmers are holding back entering the fields for exhibit as it is possible that growth may not be doing very well so far. However, it was pointed out, that entries could be made now and perhaps more moisture would improve the crops later. Final plans for the barbecue at which to burn the mortgage, were made. This took place at the fair grounds on the 16th. After having enjoyed the barbecued steaks and all that went with them, the crowd enjoyed watching the burning of the mortgage paper. Mr. Gerrard president, gave a short speech outlining what the directors had done with the money borrowed and then he held the paper while treasurer, Mrs. Bruner lit the match that burned it up. The Society wishes to thank everyone for their support throughout the years it has been active.

A barbecue and party also took place at the home of Mrs. R. Weist to honor Miss Karen Otto before her departure on a tour of Europe. Karen left on the 20th and planned to travel by train to Montreal from there she expected to embark for Liverpool. Accompanying Karen to Montreal is Bernice Rudyk who used to work in the Royal Bank here but is now employed at Jasper.

Mr. and Mrs. Justis Otto motored to Jasper to spend the weekend with their son, George, and his family. Visiting at the Otto home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Cumberland of Kingman, near Camrose. Mr. Cumberland is a former teacher at the Evansburg school.

This coming weekend portends to be filled to capacity with places to go to and things to do. Be sure not to miss the big day in Evansburg on the 29th which will start with a pancake breakfast and end with a barbecue. On the 30th the Hollysprings community is holding their annual district picnic at which they welcome everyone. On the 1st of July there will be a parade followed by a picnic at Entwistle and on the second of July, the 4-H members will be showing their beef calves at Drayton Valley.

Oil Wives Win Game

In a fun filled game Sunday the Drayton Valley Oilwives downed Sherwood Park Oilwives 46-2 after four complete innings of play at Sherwood Centennial Park.

The girls played fine ball and returned the trophy which is now displayed in Mar Nels window.

Several husbands and children accompanied the girls, and thanks to Reg Ross for taking a carload.

Everyone had lots of fun, with some great supporters on hand to help us on. Refreshments were served by the Sherwood Club.

ALBERTA HEALTH PLAN

C.D.A. Scientist Seeks Use For Wild Oats

OTTAWA--Mrs. Vernon Burrows isn't surprised when her husband is late for dinner. She knows he's only been sowing his wild oats again.

Dr. Burrows, you see, is a federal agricultural scientist who is quite literally sowing wild oats as one of his experiments at the Canada Department of Agricultre's Research Station in the heart of the nation's capital.

The burly, six foot-three researcher, who looks more like a center lineman for a professional football team, is so wrapped up in his work as head of the oats and barley unit at the Research Station that it's not unusual to drive by the field at 6 p.m. and see him examining his plants.

It all began when Dr. Burrows found that wild oats, a plant which prairie farmers have spent millions of dollars trying to eradicate, has a secret alarm clock in the seed that, when set by the proper environmental conditions in the fall, wakes the sleeping seed when winter is over.

Dr. Burrows' research is geared to increasing yields, and this means changing some oat characteristics. Common spring-type oats that farmers plant in May lacks the germination mechanism (or alarm clock) of wild oats so it can't be sown in the fall. If common oats were planted in the fall, it would germinate immediately and be killed by winter frosts. Therefore, farmers plant oats in the spring which means they must wait for the fields to dry. That's often too late to obtain maximum yields of seed.

There was a time when Dr. Burrows, along with other researchers, was trying to control the spread of wild oats. It was during this study at the University of Manitoba that Dr. Burrows was intrigued by the ability of wild oats to survive the winter frosts and to germinate in the spring. Instead of trying to kill wild oats, now Dr. Burrows finds himself carefully cultivating seedlings in Ottawa greenhouses, pampering wild oat plants in controlled environment growth chambers and in the field. He doesn't question the need to kill wild oats on the farm, where it is still a pesky weed, but he reasons that "any plant this successful in surviving or escaping the severe winter conditions of Canada must have features of value to farmers."

He has bred wild oats to commercial varieties of spring oats to construct a new plant possessing the desirable characteristics (or genes) of both species. He wants the plant to have the commercially-acceptable seed type of spring oats and the dormancy and winter survival qualities of wild oats. At the same time, he's trying to prevent other gene transfers because he doesn't want the new plant to have the wild oat characteristics that produce seeds with large useless hulls, small seeds and a sucker mouth. The sucker mouth of wild oats occurs at the point of attachment of the seed to the plant and functions in the same manner as the stem of tree leaves. The seed is held on the plant while it is growing, but falls off in the autumn. That's ideal for a weed, but it's a draw-back for farmers who want to harvest the seed.

After several years of painstaking work mixed with frustration and moderate success, Dr. Burrows made a major breakthrough this spring, the first of several he will need before his ideas are converted into a commercially-acceptable new variety. Last fall he planted hundreds of different seeds in rows, so many that he needs a chart to find his way around the test plots this spring. The seeds were from a wide variety of crosses of wild and tame oats.

This spring he discovered that the seed he had treated in a special and unusual manner last fall was shooting out of the ground, but other seed treated in the usual manner either germinated last fall and was killed by winter frosts, or didn't begin to grow as well as it should this spring.

After the seed was harvested last year, he scattered some of it on top of the ground and covered it with wire mesh to keep birds away. This seed was exposed to wind, rain and sunlight instead of being stored in a weather-proof granary. This was only one of many types of treatments he tried,

Dr. Burrows uses tweezers to transfer pollen from one oat plant to another, creating a hybrid seed to be used in his oat breeding program.

including chemical treatment and deep freezing.

Up to last year, Dr. Burrows had been harvesting the seed and storing it in granaries until September or November. Seed handled in this manner would only produce two or three shoots in the spring for every 100 seeds he planted in the fall. However, the seed he left outdoors last fall is germinating at a rate of 50 per cent or better. Now it's a matter of discovering why the seed that was left outdoors reacted the way it did.

There are several possibilities. The seed may have a biological alarm or germination clock that can be set when freshly-harvested seed is exposed to rain and the continually shortening days of fall. It may be that fall weather is altering the seed to enable it to resist winter frosts in much the same manner that native trees prepare for winter.

Once Dr. Burrows discovers what the mechanism is and he has a hunch that it's the sunlight exposure, he will be able to artificially treat the seed to activate the alarm clock and thus have better control over the germination process. That would mean that he could grow three crops a year instead of one, two of them in the greenhouse. This dramatic short-cut could cut his experimental time on this project to a third. (He's currently working on several other breeding programs as well.).

Dr. Burrows is so enthused about his results this spring that he now believes it's no longer a matter of "if" but a matter of "when" he can develop a new variety of this class of oats, which he has dubbed "dormoats".

This new variety would have several distinct advantages: Farmers could plant the dormoat seed in the fall and it would begin growing long before soggy fields can normally support heavy farm machinery for seeding in the spring; the crop will mature by late July, which means that it will miss serious diseases, such as septoria and stem and crown rusts which have traditionally cut yields of spring-sown oats; in response to the favorable growing conditions of early spring, the plants show excellent vigor and high yield potential; Because the crop can be harvested in mid-summer, the field will be open for some other crop the rest of the year.

There are several hurdles to jump before all of this becomes a reality.

Seed from the many crosses between wild oats and tame oats must now be selected under the favorable methods of culture just discovered. Then Dr. Burrows must continue this selection for several generations to be sure that the seed has not only the alarm clock and winter survival characteristics of wild oats, but also the desirable seed type of normal spring-seeded oats.

Dr. Burrows isn't discouraged however. Instead he is almost tempted to do a hop, skip and a jump in the middle of the field every time he checks the growth of that seed he left outdoors before planting it last fall. It's one of the big breakthroughs he was hoping for.

"And one of the rewards a scientist can experience in agricultural research," he adds.

The Texan struck oil and with his new riches he built an enormous mansion with three swimming pools. One pool he filled with cool water; one with warm water; and the third he left empty. Pressed by a visitor for an explanation he said "Oh, quite a few of my friends can't swim, you know."

Alder Flats 4-H Beef Club would like to thank one and all for making their day a real success.

The community was saddened by the sudden passing of Mr. Nevin Ross on Wednesday at the Drayton Valley hospital. He has been Principal of the Alder Flats school for several years and was active in almost all organizations and activities concerning the community. He will be sadly missed by all. There will be a memorial service in memory of Mr. Ross on Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. in Alder Flats.
